Fiery Feeds Mac App

It's going to be $35 and I expect to support it with new updates and features for the next 3-5 years, before doing some sort of paid upgrade, be that a move to a subscription (if supported by Apple), or another paid version.. It remembers the last used view mode per feed, so you don't have to constantly switch.. Fiery Feeds gives you the option between the Article View (what's included in the RSS feed), the Web View (displays the web page inline), or a text view (an easy to read text-only view of the article from the web).. Fiery Feeds for Mac will be a single, paid upfront, onetime purchase, as Mac apps have been for a long time.
